NEW HIRE REPORTING INFORMATION FOR KANSAS

1. What is the new hire law?

The “Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act” (PRWORA) of 1996 was passed as part of the larger welfare reform legislation. This Act requires that all employers report information on people they hire or re-hire to a state directory shortly after they are hired. Although a Federal law, this legislation looks to the individual states to implement the law and to maintain the directories of new hires. Kansas Statutes Chapter 75, Article 57, Sections 75-5742 and 75-5743 is the implementation of PRWORA within the State of Kansas.

2. Why is new hire reporting required?

New hire reporting was designed to speed up any child support withholding order processes by expediting collection of child support from parents who change jobs frequently. It also helps locate non-custodial parents to help in establishing paternity and child support orders. Thus, employers serve as key partners in ensuring financial stability for many children and families by helping them receive the financial support they deserve.

3. Who is required to report?

Employers doing business in the state of Kansas must report on the following employees:

- New Employees: Employers must report information on newly hired employees who reside or work in the State of Kansas. This includes employees of all ages, those who work less than a full day, those still in a probationary period, part-time and seasonal employees. This information must be reported even if the employee is employed for only one day before termination.
- Rehired or recalled employees: Employers must report information on employees who are rehired or recalled to work after being laid off, furloughed, separated, granted a leave without pay or are terminated from employment and who reside or work in the State of Kansas. This includes teachers, substitutes, seasonal workers, etc.
- Temporary employees: Temporary agencies are responsible for reporting information on any employee hired to report for an assignment. This need be done only once, employees do not need to be re-reported each time they report to a new client, unless there is a break in service or gap in wages, in which case they need to be reported as a rehire.

Employers doing business in the state of Kansas must report information on anyone hired if the individual is considered an employee for purposes of paying federal income tax withholding. This includes employees of all ages, those who work less than a full day, those still in a probationary period, part-time, seasonal employees and employees who are rehired. This information must be reported even if the employee is employed for only a few hours before termination.

4. What information must be reported?

In accordance with the Federal legislation, the State of Kansas requires the following information to be reported:

- The employer’s Federal Employer Identification Number (FEIN). If the employer has more than one FEIN, use the same one used to report quarterly wage information
- The employer’s name
- The employer’s address
- The employee’s name (full name: first, middle and last)

6. How often must the information be reported?

Employers are required to submit new hire reports within 20 days after an employee is hired, rehired or returns to work.

7. How will the information be used?

Federal and State laws contain strict regulations on how new hire reporting information may be used. New hire reporting information is matched against any open child support orders to locate non-custodial parents and enforce these orders.

This information will also be fed into a national directory to provide more current information for locating out-of-state noncustodial parents.

NEW HIRE REPORTING INFORMATION FOR KANSAS

New hire information may also be used by states to help detect and prevent fraudulent payments to recipients of unemployment insurance, worker's compensation and welfare benefits.

The use of this information helps maintain financial stability in Kansas families and helps to keep down the cost of welfare, unemployment and worker's compensation insurance.
